

The Swainsboro Kiwanian

June 23, 2009

President Bobby Seamans called the Tuesday evening meeting of the Swainsboro Kiwanis Club to order promptly at 7:00. Roger Peebles led the Pledge of Allegiance, and Travis Garrett offered the invocation.

Guests: Ginger Bolton was our only guest last night. She was the guest of Ed, and was our speaker for the evening. We were very glad to have her with us.

Next Tuesday is a fifth Tuesday, and we have no one designated to bring a spouse.

Sports: Tobe Karrh brought us the weekly sports update. Case Kohne won the Infineon, in California. Lucas Glover won the U.S. Open. The Wimbledon Tennis Tourney is underway, and Nadal is sitting it out. The Braves won a game, but Tobe says “Don’t get too excited. They can lose the next ten.”

Court: Judge Charles Brewer held court, and fined John Black for having his picture in the Blade. However, he immediately suspended the fine, saying that it was a very worthy occasion that was pictured.

Announcements: David Bartram reminded us that we can still purchase tickets for the District Raffle, with drawing to be held on August 1 at the District convention. Winner gets half the proceeds, up to $5000. This is a good opportunity to invest in Kiwanis, and who knows? You might hold the winning ticket.

President Bobby announced that the Club will cook hot dogs for the Teen Reading Club as we did last year. Details are to be worked out.

Program: Program Chair Ed Bolton brought his wife Ginger as speaker. Ginger brought a Power Point presentation of some photographs taken from the 1954 Better Home Town Scrapbook of 1954. She showed pictures of a number of buildings around Swainsboro and a number of Swainsboro citizens. Some of the people and places have been identified, but some have not. Ginger seeks help from anyone in identifying these people and places. Ginger also mentioned her ongoing project to identify and honor veterans of World War II. If you have not seen the Veteran’s Room lately, you should drop by and take a look. Thanks, Ginger, for a very interesting program.

Door Prizes: Linda Dekle baked a delicious looking blueberry pound cake, brought by Jim. L.H. Weise was the lucky winner. David Bartram won the Domino’s pizza, provided by Chris Cann. L.H. Weise and Ginger Bolton won the take out meals.
