

The Swainsboro Kiwanian

November 20, 2007

President Bob Losser called the Meeting of the Swainsboro Kiwanis Club to order promptly at 7:00 p.m. Jim Daughtry led the pledge of Allegiance, and Caroline Harless offered the invocation.

Sports

Tobe Karrh brought us the weekly sports report, and there was a lot happening in the sports world this past week. Unfortunately, Swainsboro High School lost to Cook County, but ECI defeated Seminole County.

Georgia Tech defeated the University of North Carolina; Georgia defeated Kentucky; Boston College defeated Clemson; Colorado State defeated Georgia Southern, Tennessee defeated Vanderbilt; Arkansas defeated Mississippi State; Louisiana at Monroe defeated Alabama; and LSU defeated Ole Miss. Somebody beat the Falcons, again.

Jimmy Johnson continues his winning ways on the NASCAR circuit.

Finally, Tom Glavine is an Atlanta Brave again. Let's hope he can bring some new life to the team.

Court

Judge Charles Brewer recessed court for the night.

Announcements

At the Board meeting last Thursday night, Charles Brewer withdrew his motion to suspend the Christmas toy project. Therefore, there was no vote tonight, and the club will proceed with the project. Details will be forthcoming.

John Black announced that Olen Flanders remains in the local hospital. John reports that Olen is on the upswing. Let's all remember Olen in our prayers. We also need to continue to remember L.H. Weise.

Tim Goodman urges us to sell more red poinsettias. We have oversold the pink and the winter rose, so sell more red ones! We are expecting delivery next Wednesday or Thursday and will announce the specific day next Tuesday night. The poinsettias can be picked up at the East Georgia College Student Center in the same area where they were last year. Please note as you come to East Georgia

College that we have a temporary entrance three of four hundred feet up Thigpen Drive from our former entrance. Watch for the signs. A new entrance is under construction.

Tim said “Sell! Sell! Sell! Sell! Sell!” Note the five sells. I think he means it.

Program

Our program chair tonight was Caroline Harless. She introduced Bob Edwards, who is the Sporting Club Director at Flat Creek Lodge. Bob comes with great credentials, having worked previously at places like the Cloister Resort and the Remington Shooting School. He has also been an instructor at First Rate tournaments like the Charlton Heston Celebrity Shoot for the NRA. Bob has been an outdoorsman for most of his life and is fortunate enough to have been able to earn his living by shooting, hunting, and fishing.

He described Flat Creek Lodge as a “diamond hidden in the state of Georgia,” and said that he intends to develop a five star hunting, shooting, and fishing program there. He invited club members to come out to Flat Creek and said he would give them a tour of the property and describe his vision for it.

Under his direction, novice to advanced shooters will be able to hone their skills at Flat Creek’s unique 5-Stand Sporting Clays layout, as well as its duck and pheasant towers. In addition, world renowned instructors will be invited to come to Flat Creek and provide special three-day shooting clinics. It sounds like a great program that he is developing at Flat Creek.

Thanks to Caroline and Bob for a very interesting program.

Door Prizes

The cake tonight was provided by the Club and baked by Petite Garrett. It was a carrot cake, and Jason Johnson, our newest member, held the lucky ticket.

The Domino's Pizza, provided by Chris Cann, was won by Jim Daughtry.

The takeout meals were won by Ron McCroskey and Jason Johnson. Jason really ought to buy some lottery tickets, with the luck he was having tonight.
